EVENT PLANNING GUIDE

With the time and money that goes into an event, doing all we can to make it a success is worth the effort. It only make sense to do our part if we are expecting something from God (James 4:8).

Before the Event

- Begin announcing the event a month ahead of time. This allows people to start planning on being present (work schedule, etc.).
- Place event poster (a poster will be sent for revival meetings, or download a customizable one on our web site at the bottom of the For Pastors section as well as pictures of our family.
- Start flyer distribution two weeks before the event (pre-designed flyers can be found in the Store tab on our website. Custom flyers can also be designed).
- If preparing for a revival meeting, download and print bulletin inserts located at the bottom of the For Pastors page. These inserts direct people to an article on our website about preparing for revival.
- Have prayer meetings and designated prayer times for the event. God listens when His children pray according to His will, and He wants revival and souls saved.

During the Event

- Daily soul winning and visitation (I will do this personally, and welcome church folk or the pastor).
- Prayer time for the meeting (alone with the pastor at some time during the day, then before each service with church members who can make it).

Our Family

- Our family consists of my wife, three children, and me; and we travel together.
- We travel in an SUV, so lodging is needed, but we do travel with an air mattress and cots.
- No one has any allergies in our family.
- Our family can provide conservative music, and Kate can teach a children's class as long as there are helpers.
